Liberal Man Restores Classic Car Damaged in Greensburg Tornado
(AP) - A Liberal man is restoring a 1973 Barracuda

damaged in the 2007 Greensburg tornado.

The car got noticed after it showed up in a National Guard photo of the destruction.

It later caught the attention of Nick Schwindt, a mason who was working in the city.

Schwindt says he had to talk the owners into selling him the vehicle and later increased his offer.
