Quick starters this season, the Lady Saints jumped out to a 14-4 lead thanks to 9 early points from Madison McLain and stretched the lead to 12 before halftime 32-20. Seward continued to tack on to their advantage in the second half, going up by 19 midway through on a three pointer from Kelsey Blair and pushing their lead to as many as 24 before coasting to the finish line with a 68-46 win. The Lady Saints got a career high 20 points and 7 rebounds from Fabiana Monte while McLain was up to her usual scoring ways with 15 and Ricquia Jones and Blair each pitched in 12.
