Liberal Is Looking For Solutions To Six-Points

Liberal city planners are hoping drivers may see less confusion at the six-points intersection within a couple years.

During a recent meeting, city officials discussed plans to simplify the intersection that includes US-83, US-54, E. 2nd St., and Bluebell Rd. The intersection is responsible for long traffic lines and lengthy waits.

The Kansas Department of Transportation is holding $700,000 to repave and reconfigure six-points, but first, the city needs to find the best solution for the intersection.
