SuperCroc Coming To Kansas

The Sternberg Museum of Natural History is gearing up for exhibit called "The Science of SuperCroc."

It's coming to Hays later this month and will be on exhibit

March 13 through Aug. 5.

The SuperCroc was about 40 feet long and weighed 10 tons.

The exhibit will include the actual fossil skull of the SuperCroc and a cast of the entire skeleton. There also will be a copy of the 6-foot long skull for photo opportunities and an interactive crocodile skeleton.
