Cheyenne Holder Is Crowned 5 State Fair Queen

Cheyenne Holder, daughter of Ruthie and Ike Grinstead, was crowned the 2013 Seward County 5 State Fair Queen. She was crowned Saturday evening before the start of the car races, by outgoing Queen, Alicia Collins. Holder and Alyssa Tatro, the other candidate, raised several thousand dollars for the Liberal Soroptomist Scholarship Program. Both candidates held several fundraising events over the last several weeks, with Holder edging out Tatro. Cheyenne Holder will reign over the 5 State Fair, and will also be at several events throughout the year. After graduating from SCCC/ATS in the Spring, Cheyenne plans to attend K-State with the intent of majoring in animal science.
