

<http://www.KSCBNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=26976>

Seward Tennis Earns ITA Academic Awards

Following a successful year on the hard court at Seward County, the Saints and Lady Saints Tennis teams proved Tuesday that they were just as successful in the classroom as the ITA released their 2013 All-Academic Teams as well as Scholar Athlete awards.

The Lady Saints were one of just five teams nationally to earn the prestigious All-Academic Team award. Seward was joined by Copiah-Lincoln, Diablo Valley, Harford, and Seminole State on the list. Individually Seward had three players who were recognized. Katuska Adarmes, Whitney Garinger, and Alma Varela were each named to the ITA Scholar Athlete award winner list.

On the Men's side, the Saints weren't represented quite as well, but the two players who did earn the awards were at the top of the academic chain. Josh Hamilton and Justin Pena each won ITA Scholar Athlete awards and both put together perfect 4.0 Spring semesters in 2013.

Roy Allen

SCCC/ATS