“Kansas Tornado” At SCCC/ATS Library

The Seward County Community College/Area Technical School Library will present the traveling exhibit “Kansas Tornado” during the month of September.

Tornadoes, with their sinister forms and terrific power, have always been a source of curiosity. Kansas has been linked to these awesome storms for many years, perhaps due to Dorothy’s terrifying experience in the 1939 motion picture Wizard of Oz.

This exhibit testifies to the destruction and peculiarities caused by these storms in Kansas through the years, up to 1991.

Kansas Tornado was produced by the Kansas State Historical Society and is part of the Kansas Interpretive Traveling Exhibits Service.

The exhibit is open to the public at 1801 N. Kansas in Liberal. For more information, contact the SCCC/ATS Library at 620-417-1160.
