The Bee Jays took the lead back 11-10 in the fifth when Texas-San Antonio's Riley Good tripled with one out. He would score on a wild pitch, Then a throwing error by the catcher to the pitcher covering allowed the lead run to score. The A's scored four in the seventh including two unearned runs after another BJ error. The BJ's dramatically tied the game in the eighth when Riley Good hit a three run homer off the scoreboard to tie it at 14. But the A's chased home a run in the ninth.
